A Limerick (By Trevor Rhodes)

There once was a man named Trevor
Who thought he was poetically clever
He wrote all kinds of things
You wouldn't say in front of Kings
And ended up in gaol forever.